Boil Water Advisory Lifted

The local precautionary boil water advisory, due to a water main break that occurred earlier this week at 1421 South Ocean Boulevard, has been lifted. The City has completed testing the water and the water meets or exceeds all applicable standards.

The precautionary boil water advisory was in effect for City of Pompano Beach water customers in the Terra Mar Island, Rio Espana Condominium, Emerald Tower Condominium and Aqua Marine Condominium area. Notices have been distributed to residences in the effected area notifying them that the advisory has been lifted.

The road was repaired earlier this week.
