American Legion Symphonic Band Kicks off Concert Series in Pompano Beach
October 28th, December 16th and February 17th
Emma Lou Olson Civic Center
1801 N.E. 6 Street
7:30 P.M.

The Florida 9th District American Legion Symphonic Band is kicking off their concert season in Pompano Beach on October 28th at 7:30 p.m. The band was founded in January of 2004 under the name, "American Legion Symphonic Pops, Inc." as a 501 (3)(c) non-profit corporation and is one of very few community bands in the area and is the only American Legion affiliated band in Florida! Their conductor, James McGonigal, is well known in the South Florida area, having taught in the public schools for 20 years.

The Symphonic Band repertoire consists of Patriotic selections, concert band classics, Broadway show tunes, and stirring marches, all mixed in with exciting arrangements of jazz and swing.

Concerts this season at the Emma Lou Olson Civic Center will be on October 28th, December 16th and February 17th.

Tickets will be for sale at the door for $5 per person for the opening concert on October 28th. Tickets for the December 16th and February 17th concerts are $8 per person.
